Sarasin & Partners appoints Natasha Landell-Mills as Partner

Sarasin & Partners is pleased to announce the appointment of Natasha Landell-Mills as a Partner as at 1 September 2017.

Natasha Landell-Mills is Head of Stewardship at Sarasin & Partners and oversees the integration of environment, social and governance (ESG) considerations into the investment process, including ownership activities. Natasha sustains policy and positioning of stewardship issues both internally and externally, and is a member of the firm's Investment Strategies Group.

Natasha joined Sarasin & Partners in 2013 with a background in development economics and responsible long-term investment. She is currently a member of the International Corporate Governance Network's Accounting and Auditing Committee, the UK's Corporate Reporting and Auditing Group, and the Asian Corporate Governance sub-group on Japan.

Natasha has 15 years' experience in long-term responsible investment, and before moving into finance, spent a number of years working on sustainable development issues in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Guy Matthews, Managing Partner of Sarasin & Partners commented:

"We are delighted that Natasha Landell-Mills has been appointed Partner at Sarasin & Partners. She has invaluable industry experience and expert knowledge in her field. Her appointment reflects the importance of stewardship principles across our firm's philosophy and investment process."
